HANAGID ST, JERUSALEM

This is Motti, age 35,

husband to Yael, father to twins and son to an aging Holocaust survivor.

On the day after his twins were born disaster struck. Motti collapsed from a massive coronary while shopping for baby supplies.

Within three minutes, Adir, a United Hatzalah EMT, arrived on the scene, after rapidly weaving through the heavy traffic on his fully equipped ambucycle.

Motti had stopped breathing and had no pulse. He was clinically dead.

Adir swiftly grabbed his mobile supplies, performed CPR, pumped his chest and delivered a series of shocks to Motti with his defibrillator.

Adir brought Motti back to life.

Twenty minutes later, the ambulance arrived. Adir went back to his job as a computer technician.

These are Motti's twins. Thanks to Adir, they have a loving, caring father.

United Hatzalah is Israel's only national
All-Volunteer Emergency
Medical Service response organization.

Help us keep them going. Adopt a Volunteer Today.

TRANSPORTATION

Ambucycles enable volunteers to arrive within the first critical moments after an emergency.

COMMUNICATION

Volunteers' locations are always mapped and immediately matched with every call for help.

LOCATION

Volunteers have no station or shifts. They are on call wherever they are.

We treated 245,000 people this year.

The secret to United Hatzalah's success lies in the fact that our volunteers are always prepared to respond to emergencies - at work, at home, or on vacation.

United Hatzalah's highly trained, technologically connected network of 3,000 volunteer medics, paramedics and physicians is the best of Israeli innovation.

Help us expand the network of volunteers across Israel and together we can save more lives every single day.

The more volunteers we recruit, train and maintain, the more lives you save.

How we work

Leveraging technology to save precious time

- The dispatch center receives a distress call
- The LifeCompass system shows the location of every volunteer at a glance
- Real-time call alerts are sent to the closest volunteers
- Volunteers race toward the scene, beating traffic to arrive in 3 minutes or less

Medics on ambucycles have changed the face of lifesaving in Israel by dramatically reducing response times.
